

CLIC Symposium: Simultaneity in Action
2017 PROGRAM

April 28th, 2017

8:15 Coffee & Light Breakfast

8:45 Opening Remarks

9:00 Multiple Temporalities in the Sequential
Organization of Sensoriality: Tasting and Talking
Lorenza Mondada (University of Basel)

10:00 Break

10:30 Goodwinian Axes and Kauffmanian Screwdrivers:
Co-operative Action and the Semiotic Affordances of Thirddness
Donald Favareau (National University of Singapore)

11:30 Lunch

12:45 Embodied Instruction
Christian Heath (King's College London)

1:45 Learning by Inhabiting Interactions: Mayan
Children's Emergence as Epistemically Competent Actors of their Communities
Lourdes de Leon (CIESAS)

2:45 Break

3:15 Resonance and Poiesis in Individual Acts
Jürgen Streeck (University of Texas at Austin)

4:15 Social Touch and 'Carnal Intersubjectivity':
Lamination of Affection and Control in Embodied Social Interaction
Asta Cekaite (Linköping University)

5:15 Reception

6:00 Dinner

Thank you to:

Michelle Fielder, Allan Hill & Ryan Miller
Michael Smith and our many Student Volunteers
String quartet: Susan Perry (violin), Larry Kohorn (violin),
Amy Martin (viola) and Steve Olsen (cello)

Event Coordinator

Clara Bergen

CLIC Director

Tanya Stivers

Mission Statement

The UCLA Center for Language, Interaction and Culture (CLIC) is an interdisciplinary research center dedicated to the study of spontaneous social interaction in diverse cultures and contexts. CLIC faculty are dedicated to training students and scholars in a variety of methodologies for understanding the multiple uses of language in everyday life.

Executive Board

Erica Cartmill, Steven Clayman, Alessandro Duranti, Charles Goodwin, Marjorie Goodwin, John Heritage, Norma Mendoza-Denton, Elinor Ochs & Tanya Stivers

clic@ucla.edu | <http://clic.ss.ucla.edu/>

APRIL 28, 2017
UCLA ALUMNI CENTER

CELEBRATING THE CAREERS OF CHARLES AND MARJORIE GOODWIN

ASTA CEKAITE. DONALD FAVAREAU. CHRISTIAN HEATH.
LOURDES DE LEON. LORENZA MONDADA. JÜRGEN STREECK.

The UCLA Center for Language, Interaction, and Culture Presents:

SIMULTANEITY IN ACTION
2017 CLIC SYMPOSIUM